

Fundraising and Communications Manager

- Christian for purpose organisation
- Newly created role – chance to shape the future
- Flexible work arrangements (Sydney CBD base)
- Salary packaging options available

About us

The Anglican Church Growth Corporation is a newly created entity and established by the Sydney Anglican Diocese. The ACGC's purpose is to further the work of the Diocese by facilitating the effective use of property and other resources for promoting and proclaiming the gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ. The ACGC manages the New Churches for New Communities (NCNC) funds and works alongside Diocesan leadership and other Committees and Boards as it carries out its work.

About the role

This is a new role, where you can make your mark. You will report to the Chief Executive Officer and will be directly responsible for:

- Developing and leading a fundraising program for both ACGC and NCNC – New Churches for New Communities. This will include both the development and execution and all aspects of fundraising including managing finances and operational aspects.
- Developing and executing a Communications plan and program including developing campaigns, content and messaging and reviewing metrics and data for continued success.

About You

We want a creative enthusiastic person, able to initiate, innovate and drive the areas of fundraising and communications, meeting their targets and further enhancing the work of the ACGC.

You will be experienced in fundraising strategy, development and program implementation within a not for profit or Christian sector. You will have had success in building a donor/member base and are familiar with the technology in this sector. Ideally you will have a communications and marketing background, with current experience in digital marketing and campaign management. You will be able to present and liaise with senior decision makers in the church, Christian organisations and corporates.

Consistent with our ethos and values, applicants for the position should have a demonstrated Christian commitment, ideally as a member of an Anglican church in the Diocese.

- Apply now with a covering letter explaining why you will succeed in this role along with your resume to recruit@sydney.anglican.asn.au.
